DEW Police a division of Directed Energy Weapons Agency, Inc. A 501(c)(3) non-profit organization

conducted research about victims of Direct Energy Weapons, involving a sample size of 350 American men and women, to gather comprehensive data regarding the experiences and effects of DEW incidents.

This study aimed to understand the extent of the impact on individuals who are experiencing DEW assaults, capturing various physical, psychological, and social effects. Information was collected over a year, from August 4, 2024, to August 4, 2025, allowing researchers to analyze trends, frequency, location, type of reported incidents, and common symptoms experienced by the victims.

By focusing on diverse demographics, the research identified patterns and potential correlations, ultimately contributing valuable insights to national security and public health officials. The findings will help develop strategies to detect if and when a victim is being attacked in their home by a criminal using DEW, for victim's medical treatment, support, rehabilitation programs, and policymaking aimed at regulating and addressing the implications of DEW in communities nationwide.

The table below summarizes research results of reports from Americans experiencing “weaponized directed energy” assaults.

Direct Energy Weapons Victims

Pain	Directed Sounds and Voices	Forced into Mental Health facilities.	Gangstalking
75%	60%	50%	100%

PAIN

- Remotely induced internal and external body pain. The feeling of microwave body cooking. External vibrations, pulses directed at the victim’s body causing the victims body to shake, tremors. Remotely forced body movements. Forced itching. Periodic electroshocks hit victims’ head, feet and hands etc. Remotely induced mouth pain that results in teeth loss.

DIRECTED SOUNDS and VOICES

- External Sounds and voices directed into victim’s space that feels like the sound is coming from inside their head. These voices verbally bully, tease victims, forcing them into a hypervigilance mindset. Victims have also reported these directed voices (human or AI) have attempted and sometimes succeeded into psychologically talking victims into committing crimes and/or suicide, ultimately changing the victims behavior. Some have also described it as "Simon Says" commands, that eventually condition Victims to conscious & unconsciously obey commands from external human or AI voices directed into their space or head 24/7 with no way of turning it off or blocking it, yet.

FORCED INTO MENTAL HEALTH FACILITIES

- Due to the lack of education, laws and understanding about directed energy assaults and injuries, Victims were and still are forced by police and/or hospital staff into mental health facilities where a few are forced medicated. In other cases Victims are sometimes arrested instead of medical professionals simply performing medical tests to detect if, where and what part of victim's body was neurologically attacked.

GANGSTALKING

- Most victims are experiencing a form of gangstalking; either by small group of 2 to 10 accomplices, medium group of 11 to 30 accomplices, large group of 31+ accomplices, used to isolate the victim into a psychological state of thinking everyone is after the victim, when it's only a few. Distracted from thinking about themselves, their family, friends and responsibilities.
- The participants are not all present at the same time in the victim's space. These are the numbers of people that psychologically and/or physically harass the victim during the gangstalkers remote occupation of the Victim's life.
